Headline: Albuquerque Has A New Way To Stay

Photos Available on Request

Albuquerque, NM—September 17, 2007--Something just a little different in the way of lodging has shown up at American RV Park at the top of Nine Mile Hill. Two very attractive stucco lodges have been added to the RV park recently. With the ability to sleep up to 8, the lodges are a perfect accommodation for families.

A perfect place for your morning coffee is on the deck of the Coyote Moon lodge is and has a small deck that looks out over the Sandias. What better way to enjoy our beautiful New Mexico sunrises?

Or if you aren't the morning type, how about a glass of wine on the deck visiting with friends and family? Enjoy the evening glow of the sunlight bouncing off of the Sandias.

Each lodge has a full kitchen, ¾ bath, a queen size bed in the bedroom, a comfortable futon that opens for a queen size bed in the living area, and two full size mattresses in the loft for the younger generation. Perfect for a full crew or just one or two.

The lodge is fully furnished with all of the necessary plates, glasses, pots, pans, and utensils that you need. The only things you need to furnish are your cloth related items, such as sheets, pillowcases, towels, etc. Oh yes, don't forget to make a run to the grocery to stock up the full size refrigerator and freezer.

Plan a get away weekend and enjoy your stay at American RV Park.
